Memory Management

The OS has five principal storage management responsibilities:

| process isolation | automatic allocation and management | support of modular programming | protection and access control | long-term storage |